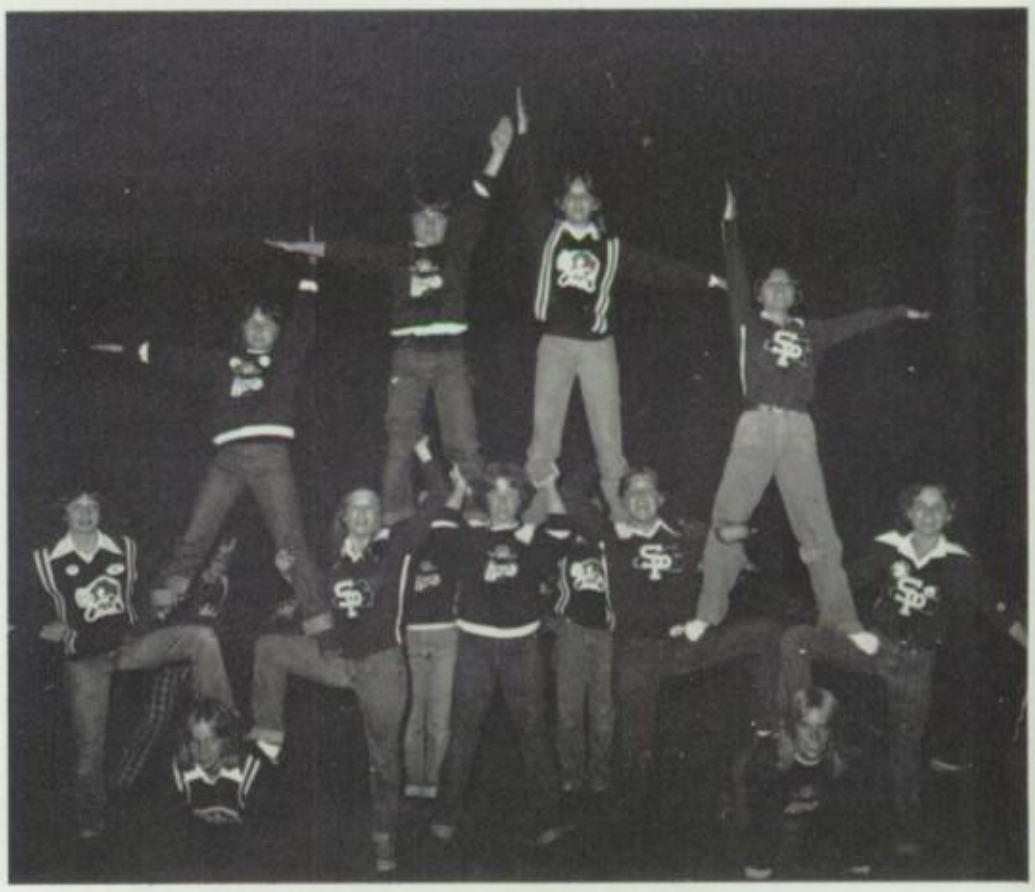
HOMECOMING CELEBRATION 78

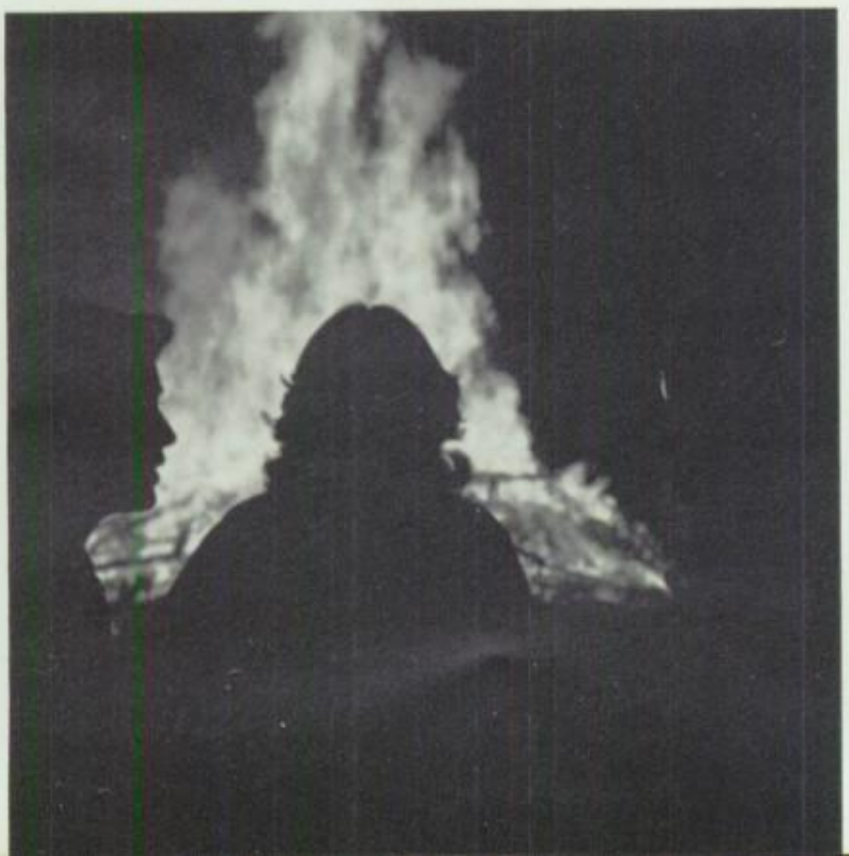
The seniors show their Spirit by taking first place in the float contest for the second year.



The cheerleaders climb to the top with their Homecoming mount.

The Flyers breakthrough with hopes of a victory in their heads.

The "Pink Ladies" provided much entertainment at the bonfire.



Rain . . . A Tradition

Traditionally, rain was present at the St. Paul homecoming, but it didn't seem to dampen the spirit of the weekend.

On Thursday, September 28, the seniors started off the homecoming celebration by gathering wood for a roaring bonfire.

Jody Mushett ruled as queen over the festivities of the weekend with her court which consisted of: Joan Fleming - senior attendent, Karen Missler - junior attendent, Bonnie Barman - sophomore attendent, and Jane Schmuhl - freshman attendent.

On Saturday the homecoming parade began in uptown Norwalk and ended at Whitney field had everyone on the streets to watch the procession of the band, floats, and court.

The senior class won the float contest for the second year, with the theme of "Beat 'em Bad". The freshman showed their spirit by coming in second. The juniors took third and the sophomores took fourth place.

Even though the football game was lost to Western Reserve, 26-13, the dance on Sunday with the theme of "the times of our lives" and music from "Masquerade" ended the weekend on a winning note. The homecoming of '78 will be a time of our lives never forgotten.

The High Spirited Faculty

The 1978-79 School Year, though a year of firsts, was characterized by a closeness and unity which built strong bonds between faculty and students. St. Paul High School community was led by an energetic and spontaneous principal, Mr. Thomas Imerson. Though new to the school, Mr. Imerson contributed ideas and incentives which increased not only academic pursuits but also faculty involvement in student activities.

On the academic level, student achievement was encouraged and praised by individual notes from Mr. Imerson and by student participation, under faculty direction, in Academic Challenge, Hi-Q, Harvard Model United Nations in Boston and many others.

The faculty added their own spice to Farmer's day, 50's day, Faculty Volleyball game and many other school assemblies.

It has been a year of memories! From St. Paulena to faculty volleyball to jet rides to Boston and green van trips to competition in sports and academics.

Seniors On Retreat Learn . . .

Who Am I

Senior girls welcome everyone to Bergamo Hall.

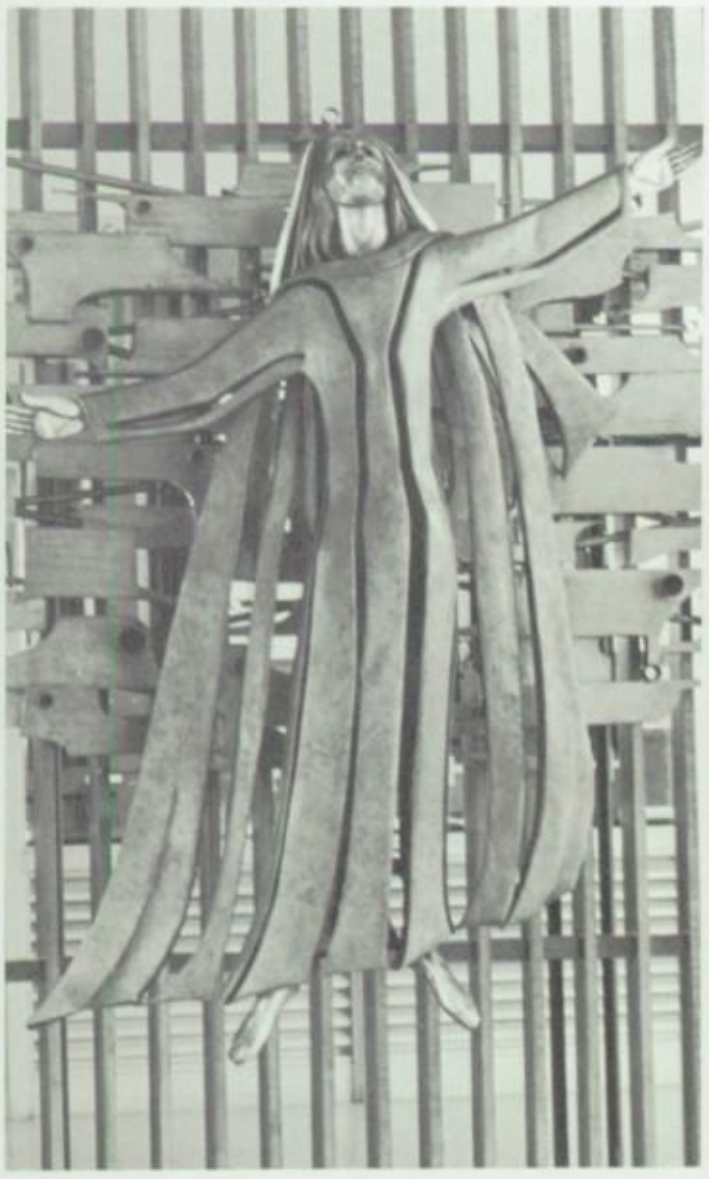
The theme of the Senior retreat "Who am I" was brought out many times in the talks and events that took place at the Bergamo Retreat Center.

The Senior retreat had many special moments------the prayer services, penance service, the midnight mass, the letters received from parents and the times of personal reflection.

Though the emotional and inspiring moments were there, there were also many light times. For example, all the class volleyball and basketball games held in the Bergamo gym, the sing-a-longs with guitarist Chris Reynolds or the 1:00 am pizza party and the water fight (under the direction of chaperones Mr. Barman and Mr. Boll) that followed.

The talks were given by the Bergamo Retreat team of Sister Anne and Brother Mark, Father Thomas, Mr. & Mrs. Ed Davis, Mr. & Mrs. Roger Siebert, and Father Frank Kehres. The chaperones were Sister Jaculin, Sister Carmel, Mr. & Mrs. Paul Boll, Mr. & Mrs. Norb Barman, Mr. & Mrs. Bernard Leitz, and Mrs. Mary Miller

The Senior Retreat of '79 will be remembered by all those present with a new awareness of God, others and self.



"Search for him and his Strength and keep on searching."

Many Seniors stop to visit the Grotto, Bergamo's outside chapel.

JUST FOR KICKS

A girl on the football team? Just for Kicks makes that place kick! This nightmare of women's lib and new regulations leads to a wildly comic situation in which a female English teacher is made coach and a girl athlete becomes the team's star kicker. However, when a school has never won a football game - no, not since the school's been opened - it can lead to almost anything to try and gain a gridiron victory! Anything from a dog-napping to stealing "magical" socks from the opposing team takes place and it works as the Squirrels can finally celebrate their first victory!

Anticipating her moment on stage, Mary Beth Camardese awaits her cue.

Graduation 1979

The Class of 79 walked through the doors of St. Paul's for the last time on Sunday, June 3. The 57th commencement exercises were highlighted by the singing of Mr. Michael Hay. Tears were brought to many eyes as he sang the Class song "Follow You Follow Me".

Guest Speaker Father Hiltz, advised the graduates that "the world should be a better place because you were here." Jim Colvin received top honors of the class by being named class valedictorian. He warned his classmates that "it is up to us to continue our lives, as we have been put on the right track by our twelve years of education here at St. Pauls." Salutitorian, Tom Carabin welcomed everyone to the graduation Mass.

The diplomas were distributed by Father Thomas and Mr. Imerson.

The '78-'79 school year proved to be very profitable for the juniors' class treasury. They started the year with a magazine drive, and hosted a few dances and raffles throughout the year.

The class of '80 also showed their concern for the senior citizens of the area, by visiting various nursing homes weekly and celebrating special occasions with them.

Learning major battle strategies in American History, discovering new "potions" in chemistry, sweating over the PSAT test and college entrance requirements, then adjusting their proposed senior schedule to accommodate the changes all signs of a junior class that will remember yesterday, dream about tomorrow, but live for today.

Determination! This seemed to be a big word in the sophomore vocabulary. After placing a relatively poor standing in Homecoming festivities, the determined sophs. went on to sell the most number of shopping spree tickets in the whole school. Determined to make it as individuals took precedence in their lives.

Sophomores had first string positions in football, volleyball, basketball and showed spirit and speed to be a vital portion of track and field.

Over all the sophomores had the drive to succeed in all they dream about tomorrow, yesterday, but live for today!

Broke? Confused? Don't know where to go? These are all common traits of the '79 freshmen class. The freshmen acquired finances by having bake sales and selling Shaklee products. They did a good job at raising money and had a second finish float.

Confusion ran rampant in the halls just as the freshmen did the first weeks of school. Finding the proper room at the proper time was the ultimate problem-but time and familiarization cleared the problem.

Don't know where to go. But the freshmen now have the idea.

Together, as a class and as an individual, the freshmen remember yesterday, dream about tomorrow, but live for today.

The Flyers' 1-9 record may not seem like much for all the hard work and determined efforts they put forth, but the lessons the team and the school learned about life made it seem worthwhile.

Experience was not in the Flyers' favor, and neither was a consistently healthy team. At times 8 of the 11 member squad were underclassmen. However, through the problems of experience, injury, low crowd attendance and morale, the young Flyers' held up to the tradition of steadfastness.

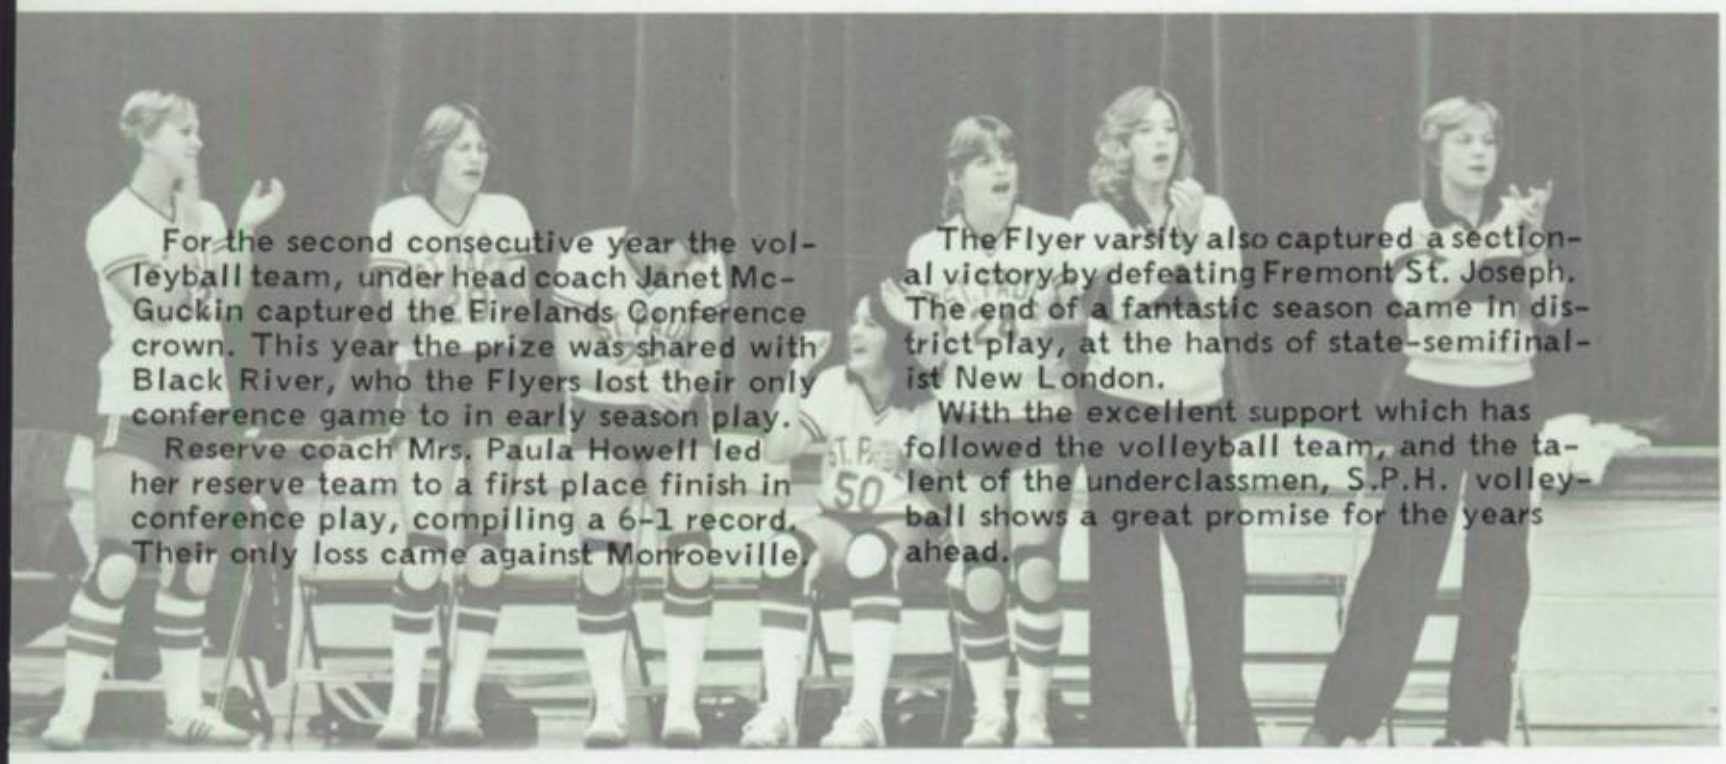
PLEASANT SURPRISES:



For the second consecutive year the volleyball team, under head coach Janet McGuckin captured the Firelands Conference crown. This year the prize was shared with Black River, who the Flyers lost their only conference game to in early season play.

Reserve coach Mrs. Paula Howell led her reserve team to a first place finish in conference play, compiling a 6-1 record. Their only loss came against Monroeville.

The Flyer varsity also captured a sectional victory by defeating Fremont St. Joseph. The end of a fantastic season came in district play, at the hands of state-semifinalist New London.

With the excellent support which has followed the volleyball team, and the talent of the underclassmen, S.P.H. volleyball shows a great promise for the years ahead.

Jill Spettle and Monica Egle congratulate one another on their victories.

Shhh! John's putting.

The 1978 Golf Team couldn't seem to pull their act together this year. The reason may be that they lost much talent from last year's team. Led by junior John Frank, they put forth much team effort, but it just didn't seem to be enough. They suffered through an almost winless season. They ended the season 1-13-1. Hopefully they will do better next year.

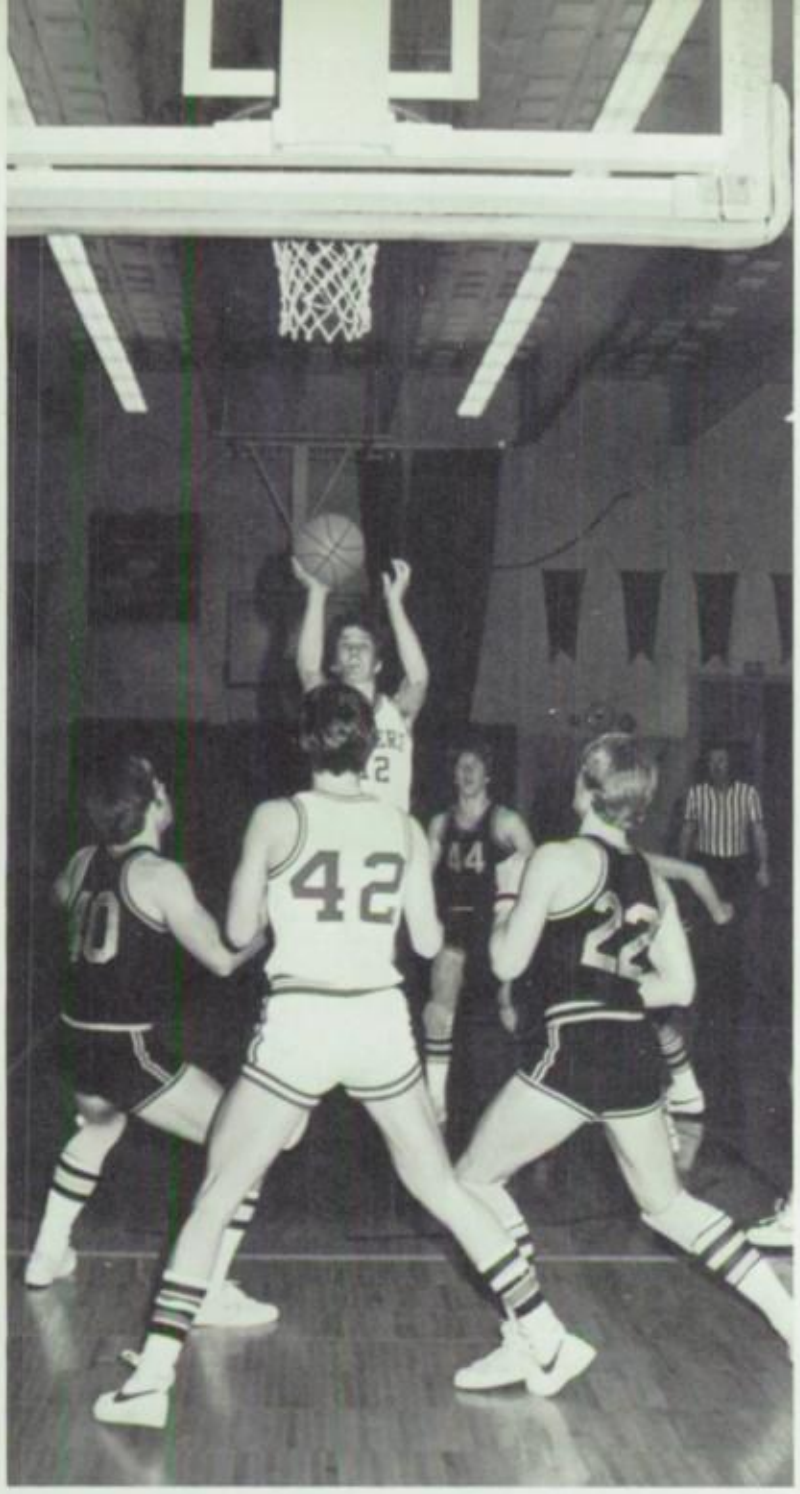
A. The Flyer team gets ready to womp on Eagles. B. Concentrating, Mike Conley gets ready to make a basket. C. Todd Moore passes the ball to Jeff Wiedemann as the Flyers set up for a basket. D. The Thrill and excitement of basketball is displayed on the faces of Steve Barman and Coach Wasiniak.



Steve Barman goes up for two points as Monroeville players defend.

The Flyers ended the 1978-79 basketball season with a 9 - 9 record. The season was mixed with the thrills of victory and the agonies of defeat. One of the problems was the plague of only having two seniors on the squad. But luckily there was a fine cast of four juniors and two sophomores.

One junior, Troy Sparr and a sophomore, Mike Conley were second team in the Firelands Conference. Senior, Jeff Wiedemann, who missed a few games during mid-season, received honorable mention.

It took a lot of teamwork but they finally reached the .500 plateau, a goal that Coach Wasiniak set early in the season. In Conference play, the team had a better than .500 season.

The Flyer team members showed much determination and dedication throughout the season. They showed much enthusiam and spirit and provided the St. Paul fans with exciting basketball action.

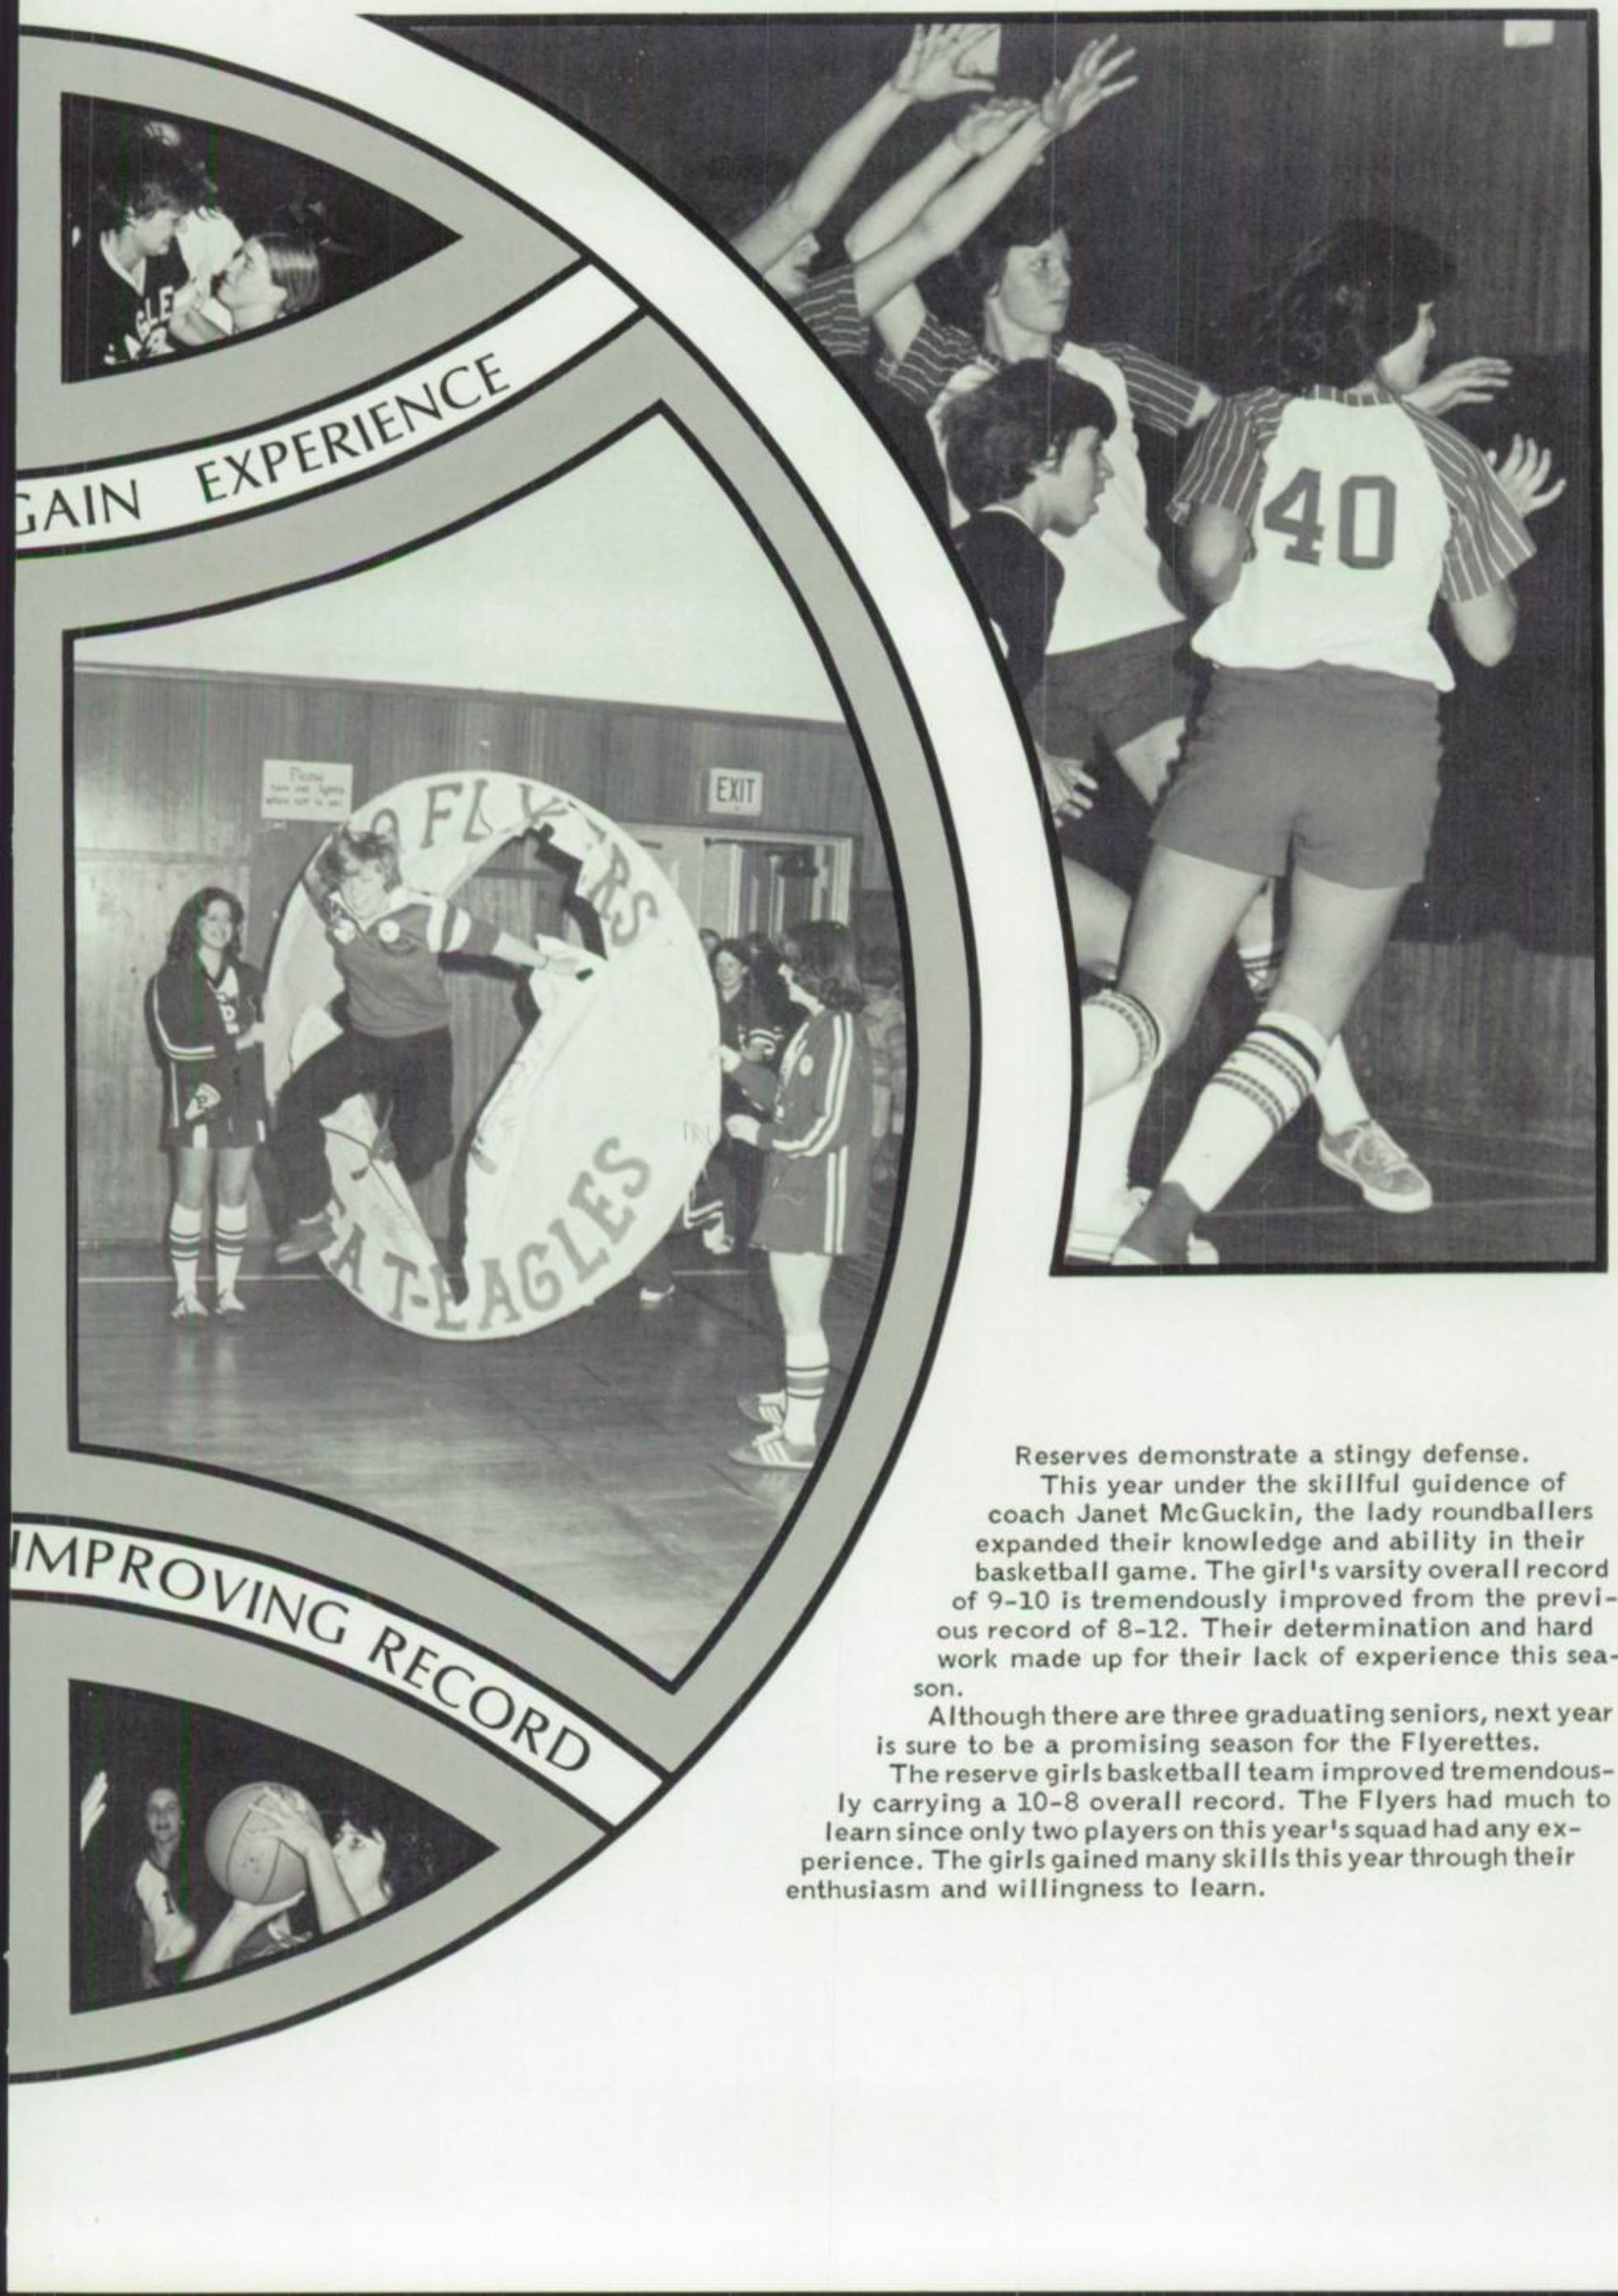
WHILE



Reserves demonstrate a stingy defense.

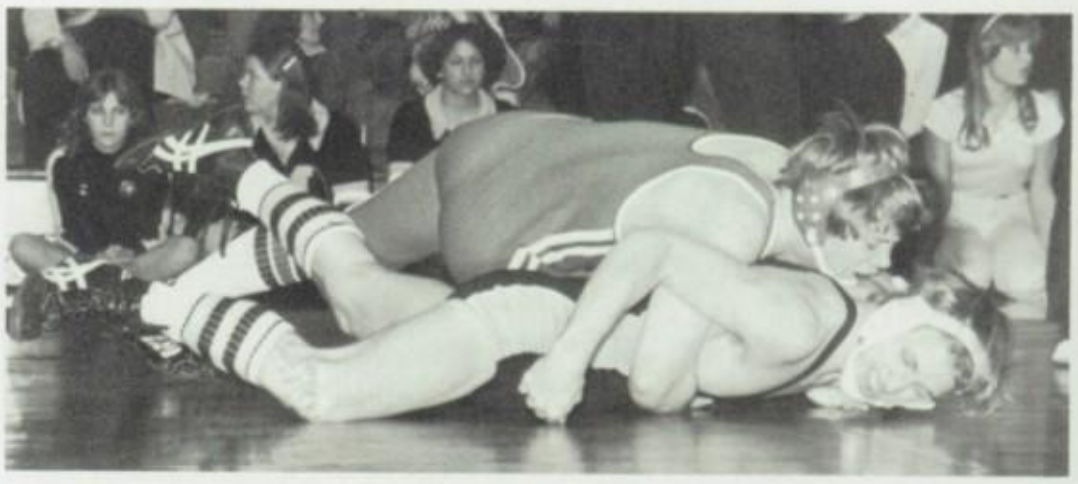
This year under the skillful guidence of coach Janet McGuckin, the lady roundballers expanded their knowledge and ability in their basketball game. The girl's varsity overall record of 9-10 is tremendously improved from the previous record of 8-12. Their determination and hard work made up for their lack of experience this season.

Although there are three graduating seniors, next year is sure to be a promising season for the Flyerettes.

The reserve girls basketball team improved tremendously carrying a 10-8 overall record. The Flyers had much to learn since only two players on this year's squad had any experience. The girls gained many skills this year through their enthusiasm and willingness to learn.

Grapplers Capture Many Victories

"We'll take you all on."



Scott Schaffer manhandles Monroeville grappler.

The Flyer Grapplers gave a fine showing this year. The team gained many victories as they went 6-1 in dual meets, with their only loss to Seneca East.

In Conference, they captured fourth place with Bret Hokes and Steve Jaworski receiving second place titles, and Jim Colvin stealing the 105 lb. conference crown.

In Sectional action, the team took another fourth giving Jim Colvin and Ed Young sectional titles. The Flyers gave a fine performance at District, placing Jim Colvin third and sending him on to state. At State Jim captured the second place title.

Martha Wiedmann's long strides, and high leaps brings forth another victory.

Under the guidence of head coach Kathy Swabley and assistant coach Judy Bates, the girls track team ended their season with an overall record of 5-2 in dual meets.

The young team had a successful season with their high points coming when they ran their way to a runner-up position in the New London relays, and by sending all four relay teams to the district meet in Bowling Green. The girls set three records this year. Marianne Mainzer leaped her way to a high jump record of 4' 10". Jill Eberly set the pace in the 880 yd. run with a time of 2:35.7. The mile relay team composed of Jill Spettle, Jackie Carabin, Jill Eberly, and Debbie Spettle also had their best this year, 4:17.9.

Tennis Has Rebuilding Season

Joan Fleming serves, while Gerald Volcheck awaits the return.

John Frank seems to be contemplating his backhand return.

It started out as a rebuilding season for the Flyer netters. There were several new participants with little experience, while former Purdue tennis player Doug Berry experienced his first year as coach. But when it was over, a 6-11 team record was captured. First singles player John Frank compiled a record of 6-11. Tom Schmuhl playing second, finished at 8-7. While third man Scott Schaffer had the most wins finishing with a record of 10-7. A balanced attack from all members initiated the competitive spirit which, besides the tireless three, was augmented by the 4-13 doubles record of Joan Fleming, Gerald Volcheck, Steve Irilli and Jim Colvin.

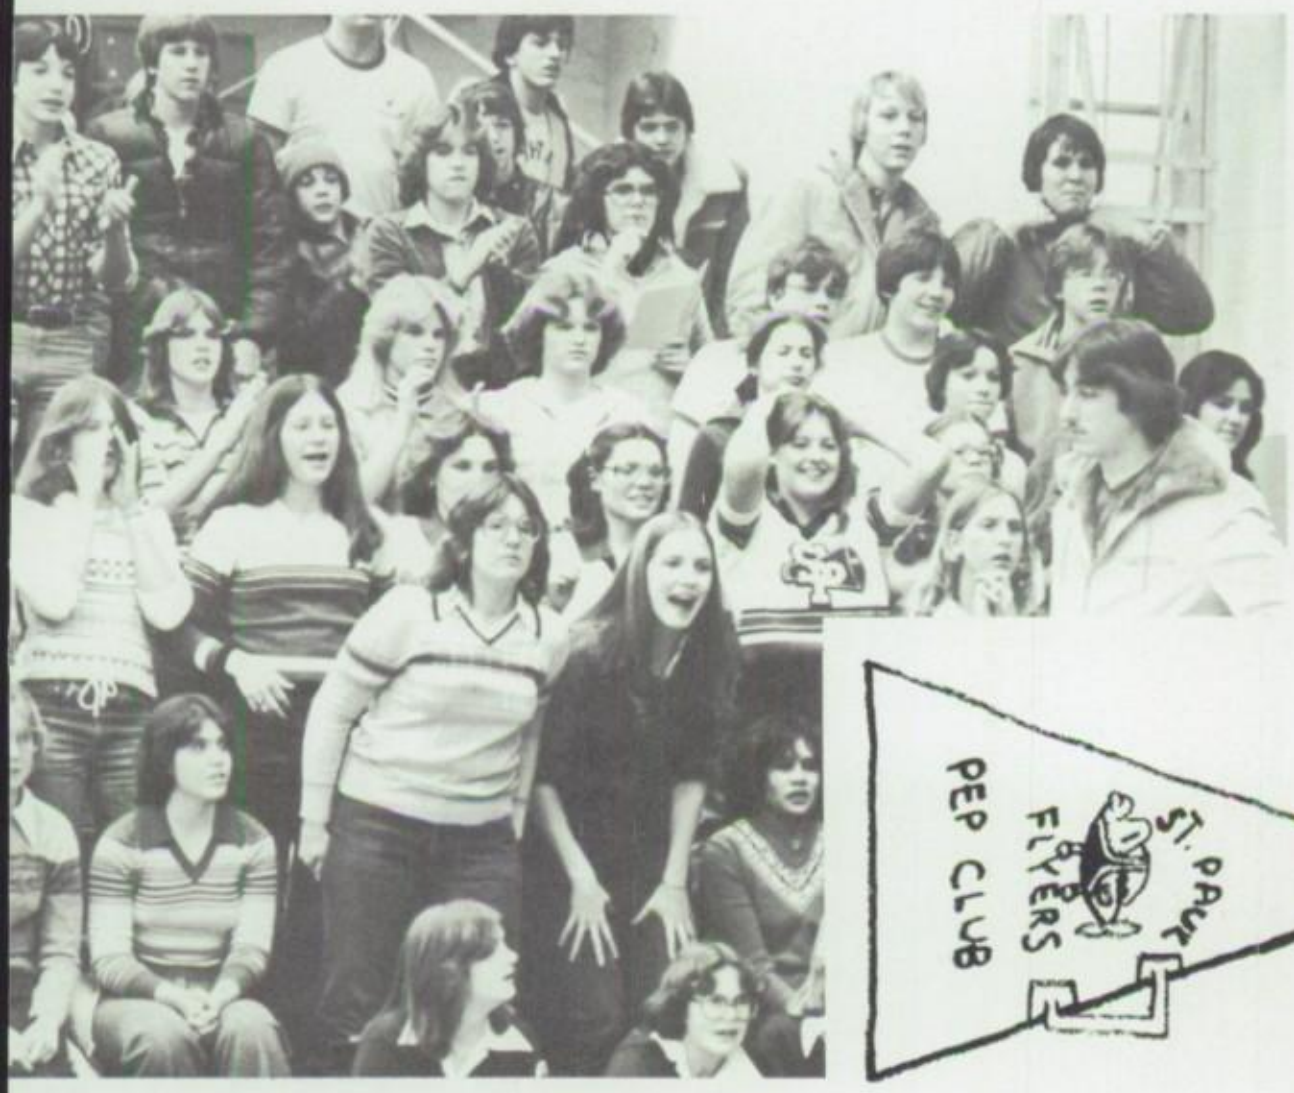
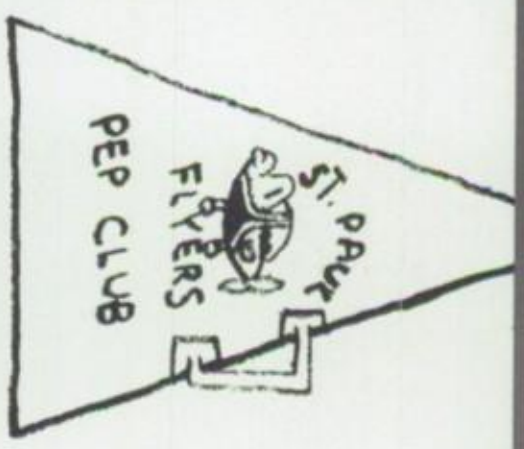
THE OCCASION



As the wrestlers do their thing, the crowd reacts in many different ways.



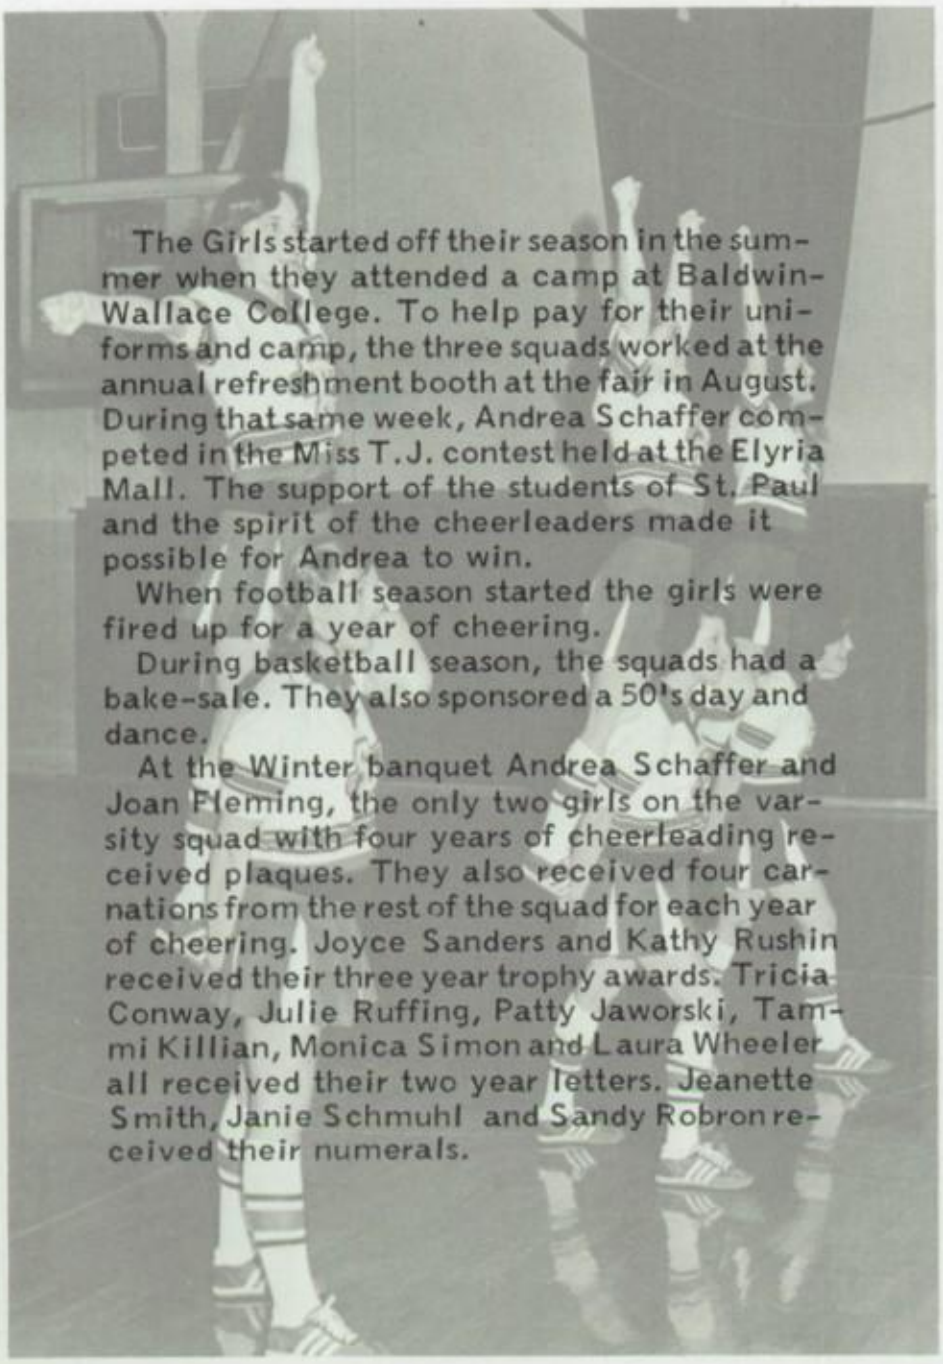
S.P.H. PEP CLUB

Senior Sherry Gilson shows her liveliness, devotion and pearly whites at all sporting events.

The Saint Paul High Pep club added spirit and sparkle to the 78-79 year. The student body backed all the teams despite the off year some of our teams experienced. Although the victories in part were because of the enthusiasm and support of the students.

There were tense times and joyous times and rather embarrasing times but the Pep club and the other fans were there to let the Flyer team know that they were behind them. This brought a closer relationship not only to each other, but to good old S.P.H.

Cheerleaders Boost The



The Girls started off their season in the summer when they attended a camp at Baldwin-Wallace College. To help pay for their uniforms and camp, the three squads worked at the annual refreshment booth at the fair in August. During that same week, Andrea Schaffer competed in the Miss T.J. contest held at the Elyria Mall. The support of the students of St. Paul and the spirit of the cheerleaders made it possible for Andrea to win.

When football season started the girls were fired up for a year of cheering.

During basketball season, the squads had a bake-sale. They also sponsored a 50's day and dance.

At the Winter banquet Andrea Schaffer and Joan Fleming, the only two girls on the varsity squad with four years of cheerleading received plaques. They also received four carnations from the rest of the squad for each year of cheering. Joyce Sanders and Kathy Rushin received their three year trophy awards. Tricia Conway, Julie Ruffing, Patty Jaworski, Tammi Killian, Monica Simon and Laura Wheeler all received their two year letters. Jeanette Smith, Janie Schmuhl and Sandy Robron received their numerals.

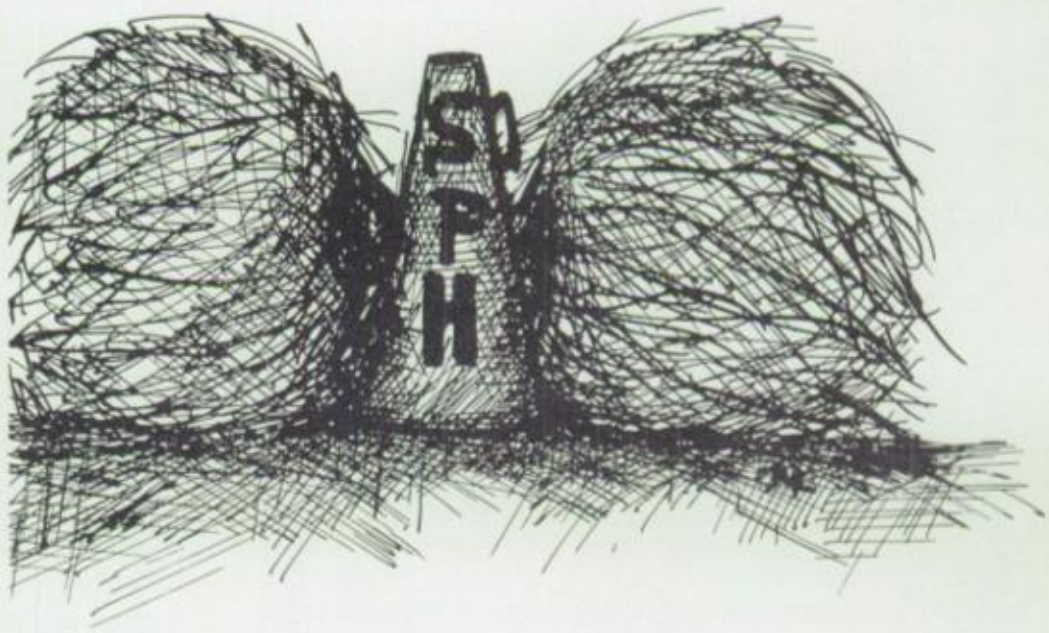
"Andrea if you don't stop doing that cheer I'm going to hit you with my crutch," seems to be what Kathy Rushin is saying to Andrea Schaffer.



Through rain, snow, sleet or hail, Jeanette Smith will prevail.

Band president Kellie Nestor, fills in for director Mrs. Burt.

The S.P.H. Flag Corp was a highlight at all the halftime shows.

BAND KEEPS SCHOOL SPIRIT

Senior Mary Beth Camardese, plays to the tune of the "Rubber Band Man."

To start the 78-79 season, the Marching Band first participated in the Sandusky Saint Mary's band festival. No awards were given, but the band made a good show of themselves, as usual. The Marching Band also participated in many parades throughout the year, including the Melon festival, the Cherry festival, the Strawberry festival and the Homecoming Parade. However, the Marching Band's main objective was to entertain the fans at all the half-time shows.

The Concert Band, with the money earned on the spaghetti dinner, will be able to get their new uniforms to add to their brilliance. All through the year, the Concert Band is responsible for many excellent concerts for the public.

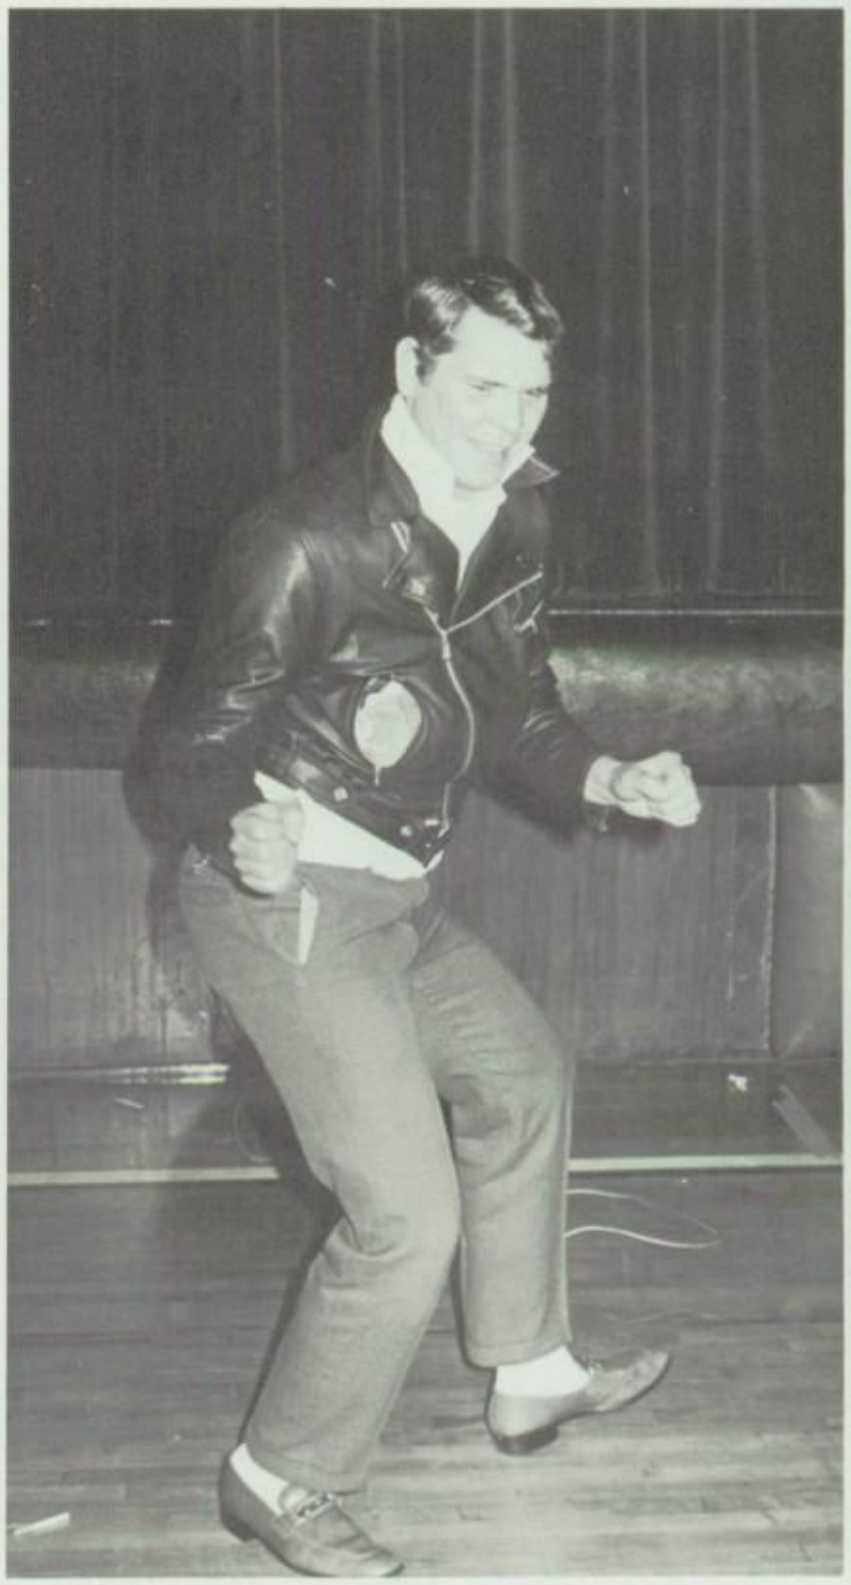
Mrs. Bates and Jeff Bleile of the Snakes are closely linked during a 50's day dance.



Mr. Dick Alge, "The Fonz", shows the faculty and student body some new dance steps on 50's day.

On 50's day, juniors D. Mushett, T. Sparr, T. Moore and seniors J. Soisson and D. Smith, cut each others throats in the French room.

Sparks Students' Spirit

Fonzie, (Mr. Alge) eyes over Senior chick Jody Mushett, as his date for the next dance.

It was beauty at its highest peak, as Margret Fisher dressed herself for 50's day.

This year, the faculty took part in many of the festivities sponsored at S.P.H. Together, they were seen dressed for all of the occasions and often put on skits, at the Pep rallys. A closer relationship between the students and teachers was felt. As graduating Seniors, our hope is that the teachers will take part again in the years to come, to help build the spirit and pride in Saint Paul High.

On Farmer's day, D. Bleile, L. Price, B. McDonald, K. Bird and M. Mainzer, show their spirit as they dress for pitchfork and hay day.

STUDENTS MATCH WITS

As a new form of competition in the school, students participated on the Hi-Q team. Area schools ran the meets in their schools, where different teams took part in the competition.

This program was sponsored by the Scotts Paper Company and cash awards were given to the schools with the most points. Team players for the Hi-Q team are Angela Hackathorn, Gary Gross, Jeanne Langjahr and Mary Beth Camardese.

This year's Academic Challenge team matched wits with other schools on channel 5. The team took second place with a total of 230 points.

The team consisted of six members, three of which participated on the team. Students were awarded Webster Dictionaries for their fine work.

The Academic Challenge team consist of Jeanne Langjahr, Chris Reynolds, Jim Colvin, advisor; Sister Mary Jaculin, Angela Hackathorn, Mary Beth Camardese and Joyce Sanders.

SKIERS ENCOUNTER SLOPES

"Look out Bruce here I come", yells sophomore Jim Conway during his encounter of the slopes.

For the fourth straight year the S.P.H. ski club took to the slopes at Boston Mills Ski Area in Cleveland and found fun and excitement in each trip they took. Despite a mid-winter thaw that hampered ski conditions the club made the best of it and managed six trips to the resort. The ski club is a non-competitive organization which is probably why it is growing every year. The students in the club find skiing fun and do it for the enjoyment of the sport.

"If I hit another tow rope I'm going to quit skiing for good" exclaims Bruce Moffit.

Through hard work, numerous activities and helpful ideas from advisor, Mrs. Bates, the organization had a profit of $200 by the beginning of March. Among the money making projects, were the Sawdie Hawkins, Homecoming, and Valentines' day dance. Also, they sold flowers for Sweetest day, heart shaped suckers for Valentine's Day and candy bars throught the year.

Collecting money for the Right to Life Foundation, are P. Jaworski and L. Riedy.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY INDUCTS SEVEN

Joyce Sanders and Tom Borgia seem to be playing tag during the tapping in of the new members.

National Honor Society is open to any junior or senior who carries a 3.2 average or above. The students are rated by the teachers on a scale of 1-5 in five different areas. Among these include personality, leadership, character, scholastics and activity in the community. The amount of points needed to become a member is set by the National Organization Chapter.

Congratulations to all Honor Society members and all who were nominees.

Senior members include; Tom Borgia, Milissa Straka, Jeanne Langjahr, Joan Fleming, Jim Colvin, Angela Hackathorn, Joyce Sanders and Debbie Spettle. Junior members include; Lisa Schaffer, Bill Ruffing, Gary Gross, Rayanne Fries and Geralyn Boes.

Receiving her induction award, junior Rayanne Fries shakes hands with Fr. Thomas.

SPH SERVERS ADMINISTER THEIR DEVOTION AT MASS

John Roth and John Creamer help Fr. Dendinger at the offering of the gifts.

Fr. Dendinger reads the final blessing at the end of Mass.

The servers are not only the priest's helper but also a figure of inspiration to the community. By helping at Mass they are reinforcing their faith in God and His Wonderous deeds. By understanding His ways and His truths, they are better fit to serve the rest of the community.

The Saint Paul High School servers for the 1978-1979 year.

Teaching French for the last ten years here at S.P.H., Sister Mary Giovanni has taught many students, all of which have received a high quality of education from her.

Each year, the French Club has many extra activities besides their classroom work. This year they sold candles to raise money, went to Canada and had their annual Mardi Gras Celebration.

Freshman study their lessons diligently in Sister Giovanni's French class.

FRENCH CLUB

FLOURISHES

Sister Mary Giovanni uses the overhead projector to teach her students.

This years French Club officers are seniors Tami Hipp, Diane Schlosser and juniors Mike Fulton and Geralyn Boes.

Don Mayle observes the Canadian side of Niagra Falls.

This year fifty-two students went on the French trip to Montreal and Quebec City. The trip lasted for a total of six day, two of which were spent on the bus. All the students enjoyed Canada very much, including the scenery, sights and many different activities. We hope that next year's students get the chance to go and enjoy the trip too.

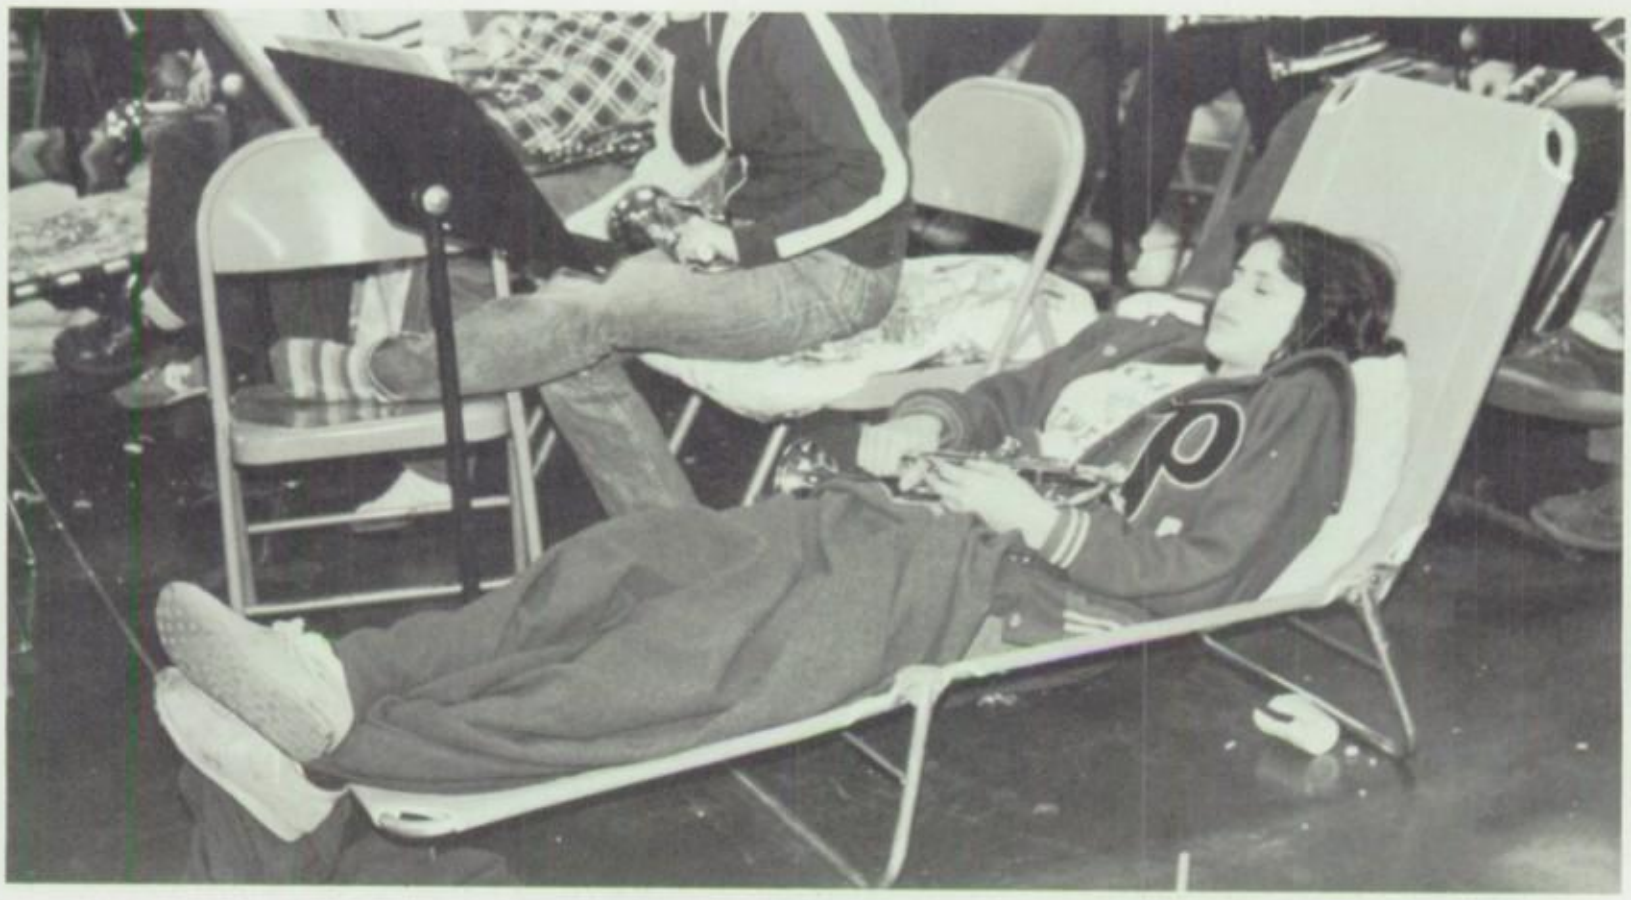
Chris Reynolds and John Missler take in all the sights as they roam the streets in Montreal.

JUNIOR REST HOME VISITS PROVE PROFITABLE

As a part of the Junior level Religion class, students participated in a rest home visitation program. Once a week during Religion class, all the Juniors went to Memorial, Twilight Gardens and Gaymont Nursing Homes.

Some of the different activities the class engaged in were talking to the elderly, reading and playing different games with them. The Juniors also took them for rides and to the stores and wrote letters for them.

The Juniors aim was to try and gain a deeper understanding and appreciation of older people.



After hours of exhausting lip movement, freshman Ann Spettel catches a little rest and relaxation.

BAND MARATHON: A LOT OF WORK, TIRED BODIES, AND $4,000.00 RICHER

Band director, Juli Burt shows her approval of the bands fine job.

April 6 and 7 found 70 devoted band members participating in the 24 hour band marathon. The marathon was a success. The approximate $4,000 that was pledged will find itself materialized in new uniforms.

Outstanding band members from each class were announced May 13 at the annual Band Banquet. Mrs. Juli Burt selected Shirley Skinn, Mary Margaret Camardese, Theresa Wheeler and Angela Hackathorn as the outstanding band members for the 1979 season. The John Phillip Sousa, an award presented to the distinguished band member, was presented to Mary Beth Camardese.

Freshman Jill Eberly, shows what 24 hours of no sleep can do to you.

Dear Subscribers and Advertisers,

On behalf of the Spirit Staff, I would like to thank everyone who has helped us in any way. Especially, I would like to thank our subscribers and advertisers for their financial support, Bob Benefiel at the Norwalk Reflector for his extra help, my mom for her moral support and understanding, Sister Mary Jacilin for all her added work, the Spirit Business Manager, the Photographic Editor, the whole Spirit Staff and our advisor, Mrs. Kathy Swabley.

We hope that this yearbook will help you "Remember yesterday, dream about tomorrow but live for today."

A lot of hard work has gone into this book from collecting money to pay for the book to choosing a theme and from putting our ideas on pages to checking over our proof pages.

If there is anyone that we forgot to mention in the yearbook, we apologize but we didn't do it intentionally.

Happy memories,

Tom Borgia - Editor
